1. A Rare book - Dhevaiula on Ramanathaswami - By: C.Rangarajan, Chennai

This classical work on Sri Ramanatha Swami of Rameswaram was composed by "Palapattadai Chokkanatha Pillai". This work was discovered by Sri U.Ve.Saminatha Iyer after comparing multiple versions. He also wrote a commentary on this rare text. He is affectionately called Tamil Thatha (literally, "Tamil grandfather"). This month, we will cover stanza 183 and 187.

One maiden heard the auspicious conch and drum sounds and wondered whether the Divine Mother Parvathi had arrived. Amid the loud noises of the festival, even the faintest sound seemed significant to her eager ears. Seeing others hasten to worship Her, she too followed in devotion. As she gazed upon the Lord's divine form from head to foot, she became completely absorbed in Him. Forgetting her former thoughts and concerns, she stood overwhelmed by love and devotion, yearning only for the vision of the Divine Mother, just as a cow longs for its calf.
